e-mail: janh@apolloinsurance.com

As a customer service representative, Jan works directly with customers to provide support and service to their commercial insurance account. She is available to answer any questions customers may have regarding their commercial accounts. Her assistance is not limited to these areas; as your customer service representative, she will also act as a direct liaison between the customer and insurance company underwriters.

An integral part of the staff at Apollo Insurance Agency, she is also involved in personnel operations and the establishment of key office policies.

Jan has worked at Apollo Insurance Agency since 1988. She is a licensed agent and holds a CIC designation (Certified Insurance Counselor). The CIC is a mark of distinction that represents a commitment to continuous enhancement of one's knowledge and service. CIC is nationally recognized as a symbol of professional excellence and leadership in the insurance industry.

Secure Your Future.
